Get in touch with your feminine side – Paint a Pot

Paint a Pot at Jenggala Keramik Bali as one of the off court activity is a tribute to the most exciting women's tennis tournament, providing a socially competitive environment for players who approach the game with the right attitude and in the right spirit. The ladies will experience a session course introducing them to the pleasures of handling clay and creating their very own unique ceramic piece.

They will select their ceramic item, sketch the design, select their favorite colours and glazes and then paint away. These ceramic creations will be fired in Jenggala kilns and will be ready within 2 to 4 days. The entire event will be a unique experience in creating handcrafted product, applying their creative process and receive a special memento from their visit to Bali. Located in Jimbaran, Jenggala produces high quality, handcrafted ceramic. Their artisans produce unique designs and decorative finishes in a veritable palette of striking, lead-free glazes creating custom made products.

Serving an Ace

One of the world tennis players currently in the spot light is Sania Mirza. This beautiful and fashionable lady born in Mumbai India, 15 November 1986 has an amazing achievement in tennis circles. Since the age of six, Sania has been trained under the guidance of Imran Mirza, her own father, and well known trainer Bob Brett. Thus her remarkable accomplishment comes as no surprise, her world rank increases steadily year after year. Before confirming for the Wismilak International® Bali 2005, Sania will play the US Open in New York, on August 29. Her self-confidence, high spirit and aggressive play are valuable assets in facing the rest of international women tennis players in tournaments.

Sania began playing tennis at age 6. Her favorite colors are red and black. She likes movie Ocean's 11 and actors Brad Pitt and Hugh Grant, as well as listening to hip hop, including Eminem. She enjoys playing cricket and swimming. Admires Gandhi and the tennis play of Steffi Graf. She is coached by her father, Imran and Bob Brett. Watch Sania Mirza live, close and exclusive on the courts of Grand Hyatt Bali during this year's Wismilak International® Bali, 11 - 18 September 2005.
